SOCIAL PROGRESS AND SOCIAL JUSTICE

Who is ICSW?

Founded in 1928, the International Council on Social Welfare (ICSW) is an international non-governmental organisation operating throughout the world for the cause of social welfare, social justice and social development.

ICSW takes pride in the diversity of its membership, collectively representing tens of thousands of organisations worldwide, of which nearly two thirds are in developing countries. The daily work of its members covers a wide range of activities: establishing social structures, delivering social programmes, developing community organisations, advocacy and information dissemination.

To achieve its mission, ICSW advocates policies and programmes which strike an appropriate balance between social and economic goals and which respect cultural diversity. ICSW carries out its activities within the following main programme areas: policy development and advocacy; dissemination of information; supporting the work of its membership; and international programming. ICSW is involved in regional and sub-regional activities in the following ten regions: Central and West Africa; East and Southern Africa; North Africa and the Middle East; South and Central Asia; South East Asia and the Pacific; North East Asia; Europe; North America; Central America and the Caribbean; South America.

ICSW is NOT a funding agency. ICSW has Consultative Status with the Economic and Social Council of the United Nations as well as the following UN agencies: FAO, ILO, UNICEF, UNESCO, WHO; and regional inter-governmental organisations.
